Washington is cut off from the outside world by flooded roads while Huntington is in a like predicament. A Chesapeake bridge went out.

Not only are rivers of the upper part of the state on a rampage, but in lower and the Ohio who is out of bank with a 20 foot bridge carried away at Belva.

Chesapeake reported the Tygart's river to be within three feet of the ground in 1912, with homes flooded. Weston, Padmont and Westport had a stage that touched the flood mark, the highest flood since 1912.

One end of the stage in Wheeling almost reached until tomorrow morning. Gardens all along the Ohio have been swept away with thousands of dollars loss.

Washington, May 13. (INS.)—The afternoon session of the Senate today was devoted to the consideration of the President Coolidge's veto of the pension bill.

Senate Upholds Veto Of Bursum Bill Which Increased Pensions

The vote was 53 to 28.

Senators of both parties spoke for and against the Bursum bill prior to the roll call.

Senators, tellers, and newspaper men were keeping a close check on the balloting as it proceeded on the floor.

When the bill was passed over the President's veto as soon as the roll call was called. The tabulation was 53 to 28.

The defeat of a hubbub and buzz of the Senate. Senator Harold arose and told how he was recorded.

He applied that he was recorded in favor of the bill.

Well I desire to be recorded in the affirmative, said the Oklahomaan.

Thus, in a twinkling, the defeat of President Coolidge's veto of the measure was turned into a victory for the White House.

There was an uproar following the vote, which had proceeded at all times in a calm and confusion, with party lines shattered.

Old Tires Make New Streets

Rubber paving blocks, made from old auto tires, are being tried out in Boston streets. They are said to take the noise out of traffic and to wear better than many paving materials. John A. Bourke, a Boston city official, is shown laying the first block.

Mother of Quakertown
After Death Of Boy

Quakertown, Pa., May 13. (INS.)—At a hearing before Justice Gordon H. Lankenau today, Mrs. Verna Rupe, of this city, was held under charges of manslaughter and cruelty to a minor child.

DR. SUN YAT SEN IS REPORTED DEAD FROM HONG KONG

London, May 13. (INS.)—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first provisional president of the Republic of China, and leader of the South China revolution, is reported dead at Hong Kong, said a dispatch from Shanghai today.

HOUSEWIVES ARE MORE SUSCEPTIBLE TO WHITE PLAGUE

Harrisburg, May 13.—Housework apparently takes a greater toll of tuberculosis victims in Pennsylvania than any other occupation. The task of keeping the home clean has proven far too arduous for 69 women who are now seeking to regain their health at the Mt. Alto State Sanitarium.

A classification of the former occupations of the 477 patients at the state institution prepared by Dr. R. H. McCutcheon, medical director, shows that housework leads the list.

Day laborers are second with 60 while office work, popularly supposed to be more conducive to tuberculosis than any other employment ranks third on the list with 45 persons who were employed as clerks before they came to Mt. Alto.

Almost every occupation is found represented in the list of patients at the Mt. Alto Sanitarium. Factory work caused the physical collapse of 29 men and women formerly employed in the workshops of the state while 23 students attributed their physical condition to overstudy. In addition there are 17 machinists, 16 carpenters, 13 millers, 13 salesmen and women, 12 waiters and waitresses, 10 chauffeurs, 10 nurses and 10 tailors.

The remaining occupations show a smaller list of victims at the sanitarium ranging from 9 weavers, 7 stenographers, 7 electricians and 7 shoemakers down to a long list of occupations which have but one patient at Mt. Alto. Seemingly, idleness is not a sure guarantee of good health for eleven persons at the sanitarium confessed that they had no occupation or job prior to the time they came to the institution.

Nor is an open air occupation a sure preventive for lung trouble as there are six former Philadelphia policemen and five farmers in the colony population. Two artists and one undertaker are included in the list of patients while musicians, druggists, school teachers, piano tuners, jewelers, civil engineers and a long list of other occupations contribute the remainder of the Mt. Alto patients.

METHODISTS TO BE MORE STRINGENT ON MARRYING OF DIVORCED PERSONS

Springfield, Mass., May 13. (INS.)—Methodist Episcopal Church laws dealing with divorce were straightened and interpreted by the general conference here today. In the future ministers of the church will not be permitted to marry persons who have been divorced on grounds of adultery. Court records must be made the basis in deciding the right to remarry.

Interpretation of the law by the conference denies the pastors any discretion in their decisions. Clergymen who secure divorces on grounds other than specified by the laws of the church or from whom any woman is divorced on grounds not recognized by the church will be subject to trial and expulsion.

Cedar Rapids Girl Is Critically Ill Of An Odd Oriental Malady

New York, May 13. (INS.)—A victim of a rare and deadly oriental disease contracted in September, 1921, Mrs. Theresa Nao, 18, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., has an even chance of recovery, physicians at Flower Hospital said today. The girl's mother gave a quart of her blood in a transfusion operation that has restored her strength.

Specialists called into the case, which could not be diagnosed, said today the girl was suffering from the Shiga stain of dysentery, contracted, likely, in a Chinese restaurant in Cedar Rapids which she frequented with companions in her school.

The disease is almost unknown in this country, it was said, although thousands of Chinese die of it annually.

Dr. Orlando Von Bornewitz, head of the Flower Hospital Clinic, said it probably would be a year before the girl is cured.

SOY BEANS FOR HAY OR PASTURE SOLVES PROBLEM

During the past few weeks many inquiries have been received at the Farm Bureau Office as to what crop could be sown to produce an early dairy food or pasture. This same question has come up in a number of different counties, and the consensus of opinion, among the College Professors, has been to sow Soy Beans, as they are both high in protein and one of the quickest maturing plants that we have.

The farm papers have carried articles regarding Soy Beans and their value to the Pennsylvania farmer, and have recommended various varieties; some of which are adapted to the Southern part of the State, and others adapted only to the central or Northern part. The Wilson variety, highly advertised, and a good yielder, is not adapted to Clearfield County conditions, and should not be sown as it will take too long to mature, and will not be satisfactory either for grain or hay. The Ito San variety is perhaps the best early variety of any. It will mature in about one hundred and sixteen days, and is one of the few varieties that will mature every year on farms of light soil and high altitude. For grain purposes, it is perhaps the best variety that could be grown in Clearfield County. The Manchuria variety yields a little more to the acre, and is perhaps a week later in maturing. It should be adapted to most sections of Clearfield County.

Soy Beans can be grown on a soil that is slightly acid. In fact, they do better on land that has been limed and fairly fertile. It should be inoculated before planting, unless soy beans have been grown on the same field during the last few years. The young plant is easily killed by frost and should not be planted until corn planting time. It can be sown with a grain drill, using the oats side of the drill, or it can be planted in rows preferably not more than twenty-eight or thirty inches apart, in which case cultivation will be necessary. The rate of seeding depends both upon the method of planting and the variety, but in general, for broadcasting it will require about one and one-half bushels of seed per acre. While for drilling in rows three pecks will be sufficient. Bulletins and other information on Soy Bean culture can be secured from the Farm Bureau Office by anyone that is interested.

FARM ECONOMIST FAVORS CULTIVATING BEST ACRES

Urges Converting Poor Lands Into Permanent Pasture for Livestock

Must Eliminate Inefficient
Not how large a farm can a farmer till but rather, how little of the farm can be cultivated to get the greatest possible net return per acre and per man as a unit, is the keyword of the agriculture that confronts farmers today.

Thus does H. G. Niesley, extension marketing specialist at the Pennsylvania State College, summarize the real economic problem that faces agriculture this spring. "With taxes and all other expenses high, the temptation will be to sow and attempt to cultivate parts of the farm this year which in time will reveal the fact that under present prices a profit on them will be impossible," he declares. "Better convert the poor fields of good farms and larger parts of poorer farms into some permanent pasture on which cattle, sheep or hogs can be raised, than to expend high priced labor on poor land only to find at the end of the year that no profits are in sight."

Hundreds of acres in this and other states were brought under the plow that will return a profit only under periods of high prices. With present prices, Niesley be-

TEST SEED CORN BEFORE PLANTING TO GET RESULTS

As a result of communications and survey made by the Farm Bureau, it would seem that the seed corn situation this year is quite serious. Many farmers, in Clearfield County, who felt certain that they had good seed for planting, found upon examination that the germ was dead, or that only a small proportion would germinate.

The reason for this condition was the large amount of moisture in the corn last fall at husking time. Much of it did not become thoroughly dried before the severe freezing set in, which resulted in the condition we find at the present time.

Since it requires only a few ears to plant an acre of corn, it is very important that every ear grows for if one or two ears fail to grow, it means the loss of a large percentage of the seed.

The Farm Bureau succeeded in securing a limited amount of White Cap Dent, which should ripen anywhere in the County, unless the season should be extremely short. An effort will be made to supply any farmer who desires seed, providing they do not wait until the day before planting to order.

The only safe thing to do is to test each ear of corn, and be sure it will grow before it is planted. If less than ninety-five per cent germinate it should either be planted thicker or a good source of seed secured.

Believes that time and effort will only be wasted to expect remunerative returns from such acres. These, in the language of the economist, are submarginal farms or fields because they can not pay for cost of production. Marginal lands are those that just pay the cost of producing a crop.

Niesley regrets the fact that the penalty of the farmer for bringing too much land into use is low prices, but he states that low prices alone will correct in a sane, economic way, the present agricultural condition.

This is the time for much deliberation and sane thinking, according to the marketing specialist. To just what limit can a farmer go to get the greatest possible net return for his labor and his land, is the big problem. If a larger application of plant food on fewer acres will result in more per unit, it certainly is to be recommended in these times.

"Labor saving machinery is an evolutionary process that will come to be adopted more and more if the seriousness of the farm labor situation continues," he states. "Care should be taken, however, in increasing indebtedness on such machinery at present when it requires so many units of the farm crop in question to gain a title to it. The purchase of necessary machinery is certainly not to be discouraged, but the farmer alone knows whether he is justified in adding new or additional equipment at this time."

The reports of farms lying idle is only a healthy sign in times like this, is the opinion of Niesley. While it is a hardship on the one forced to vacate, yet agriculture must pass through this adjustment period just as all other industries are passing through it now. Just as scores of inefficient and costly mines have been abandoned during the past few weeks, so in time the inefficient farm and farmer must take the same course.

"Inefficiency in production must be eliminated, for it is no cure for low prices," he concludes. "Experience of our best farmers and scientific studies have proved that farmers with high yields make greater profits than those with low yields. It is exceptionally true on high priced land. It is far better to reduce the acreage than to reduce the yield per acre if the aim is to reduce the total crop of labor. However a word of caution to those contemplating any change is not to interfere more than is absolutely necessary with the present crop rotation."

ROUND ONE

The gong sounded on the Ton Litter enrollments on April 15. On this date four hundred fifty Pennsylvania swine growers had signed their intention of making a ton of pork in one hundred and eighty days with a single litter of pigs. The number of farmers who will nominate more than one litter apiece will comprise a most satisfactory percentage of the enrollment total. Some farmers have entered every litter farrowed on their farms this spring. This, together with a much larger percentage entering two litters apiece, shows rather plainly that the membership of the Keystone Ton Litter Club was quick to grasp the possibilities of the project as regards a pointed demonstration of blood, care and feed. May we remind all members that Blank No. 2, certificate of farrowing, is due within seven days after the litter is born. Ear mark the litter or litters and turn the record into the County Agent promptly. It looks like several counties will have a one hundred per cent record on litters certified as compared to enrollments. We believe that a one hundred per cent record is possible for all counties and that the number of litters certified should practically equal the total enrollment. June "Hog Facts" will show this percentage by counties, also the rank by breeds in number of litters certified. In this issue you will find the county enrollment totals.

The Suckling Period and Weaning Time.

The spring pigs should be coming along fine now and should be eating well. The little fellows will begin to crack shell corn by the time they are ten days old and this should be supplied them to get them to eating as soon as possible. As soon as the pigs are eating well they should be given the same feed that the sow is receiving but the pigs should get their feed dry as they will get their feed in the trough when the old sow is fed and get some of her slop. If the extra feed they are given is fed in the form of slop they may get too much and cause scours. The extra feed that is given them should be fed in a trough or self-feeder which is protected by a creep that will allow the little pigs to run through but will keep the old sow out. The creep should be built with the opening narrow and hogs so the pigs will not have to stoop and crawl under as this will often make them swaybacked and break down their pasterns.

By the time the pigs are weaned they should be on full feed so they will go right on growing without missing the old sow and never lose any of the big fat put on during the suckling period. Too many litters are weaned at around six weeks of age. The only reason sows are kept on the farm is to farrow and raise pigs and the best and most profitable gains made during the pig's life are those put on during the suckling period so the old sow should be kept busy giving milk for the pigs as long as possible. She is paying no dividends when she is not caring for her pigs. The pigs should be kept with the sow until they are from eight to ten weeks of age, and often it is profitable to keep them with her until twelve weeks of age. The only disadvantage in the long suckling period is that it is some times a little difficult to get the sows bred in time for an early fall litter. In this case the sow should be always bred on the third day after the litter is weaned.

If the pigs have not been handled in such a way that the owner is sure they have not become infested with worms they should be treated for worms before or shortly after weaning. This will give them every opportunity to continue to make good gains and protect them from the ravages of these parasites and the disease they are apt to pick up if their vitality has been lowered from the effect of the worms. The best way to treat them is to reduce their feed for a day and give a worm capsule that can be secured from the local veterinarian.

If the pigs are kept with the sow for ten to twelve weeks the sow will often wean the pigs herself. If she does not wean them the weaning can be accomplished by removing the sow from the lot where the pigs are quartered. The owner should be watchful to see that the weaning is not too soon in the period of lactation as sows giving a large flow of milk may get caked udders. If there is a tendency towards caking the udder should be rubbed with camphorated oil. The sows should be rebred in May if possible as the present price of feed makes the cost of carrying a sow through the year more than most farmers realize and it is the sow that produces two litters a year that is making her owner a profit.

Summer Feeding.

Pasture should be the foundation for summer feeding. It has been conclusively proved by tests made in Pennsylvania and other states that the most profitable gains on hogs are those made on pasture and the farmer that expects to make a profit on his hogs at the present time must arrange to get them out on forage of some kind. A further discussion of this subject will appear in June "Hog Facts." If no other pasture has been provided dwarf Essex rape should be sowed at once for early pasture and a little later either another field of rape or a field of soy beans should be planted for late grazing. A field of corn can be planted for "hogging off" purposes for shots that are to be finished for market. Soybeans should be planted with the corn by putting the bean seed in the fertilizer box of the corn planter. For additional forage in the corn field sow rape at the last cultivation of the corn. This combination gives a supply of high protein feeds and one needs only a small amount of tankage to balance the ration. Do not expect the pasture to supply all the feed needed. The pigs to do well must have about three pounds of grain per hundred pounds live weight daily to make the most economical gains if being raised for breeders. From three pounds to a full feed on self-feeders is needed for shots being fattened for market. Those pigs being raised for breeding purposes

UNIFORM QUALITY PRODUCTS BRING MAXIMUM PRICE

The maximum price for the products of the farm in Pennsylvania is dependent upon factors which, to a large extent, lie in the hands of the farmer himself. This is the way H. G. Niesley, extension marketing specialist at the Pennsylvania State College, views the marketing situation which confronts the farmer. A quality product at harvest time, he says, depends upon starting this spring with good seed which should be fed largely on oats, middlings and tankage in addition to the pasture with enough ear corn to keep them in the flesh the owner wants them in. The most profitable way to handle the pigs that are being produced for market is to put them at once on pasture with access to a self-feeder with shelled middlings and tankage the addition of which will increase the rate of gain but it will also increase the cost of gain.

"Eventually Why Not Now?" When the pigs are four to six weeks old, while they are still nursing the sow is the most favorable time for castrating. The operation at this age is accomplished with less shock and loss of blood but the big advantage is that the pigs have the milk of the mother. Have the quarters clean at the time of castrating and do the job on a warm sunny day. By all means keep the pigs on holes following the operation.

FARMER'S DAY AT STATE COLLEGE JUNE 11 AND 12

The Annual Farmers Day at State College will be held this year on June 11th and 12th. An evening session on June 11th and field meetings and lectures all day on the 12th.

Clearfield County has always been well represented at State College on Farmers Day, and those who have gone have been unanimous in saying that it was a trip well worth making. An opportunity will be given to study the oldest fertilizer demonstration plots in the world, as well as to see the respiration calorimeter, a machine used for determining and figuring out rations for feeding values for livestock. This is the only machine of its kind in the United States, and is likewise the first that was ever installed in the world. It is worth a trip to State College to see and study this piece of apparatus, if nothing else should be seen.

The College grounds and farms, together with all the Departments, are open for inspection, with one of the College professors in charge at each building or field, so that each visitor will have an opportunity of getting a vast amount of knowledge regarding the experimental and educational work that is being carried on at the State institution.

Commencement will be over, so that there will be plenty of rooms available for lodging, and plenty to eat. Fill the Lizzy with gas and oil and take the entire family for a real day's enjoyment and education.

has received proper care prior to seeding; a well prepared seed bed, followed by approved cultural methods, coupled with adequate prevention and control of noxious weeds, insects and diseases.

Niesley observes in his travels over Pennsylvania that the greatest difficulties in marketing farm products arise in sections where each farmer has followed his own particular ideas about the products to be grown, rather than agreeing with his neighbors to grow a product that is common to the community and is demanded by the consuming public. Producing what the consuming trade in general demands, rather than the products which give the farmer the greatest satisfaction in personal consumption he believed, is the real crux of the marketing problem that confronts the farmer. Just because the producer enjoys several stacks of buck wheat cakes for breakfast is no indication that the city consumer will demand equal amounts of the same product, or even any of such a product.

"One of the first steps to take in cooperative marketing is for communities to agree to purchase the same grade and variety of seed and to grow crops under similar methods," Niesley insists. "Then if a surplus of a certain product accrues farmers are prepared to ship out this surplus as a well graded, standardized car of first-class products instead of as a car of mixed varieties."

He cited instances where a toll of from ten to fifteen cents per bushel on potatoes has been taken in several communities because the producers were able to load only cars of mixed varieties which were not uniform or my graded. This same principle applies to grain and livestock. When such products appear in competition with well graded, standardized products, the only alternative is to take a reduced price.

Niesley favors building this plan of cooperative marketing around the already existing organizations, such as the spray ring, both fruit and potatoes, the cow testing associations, or any other organization which could be effective in bringing about the growing of a uniform, standardized article.

"The far-sighted business farmer should begin now to sow and plant only a standard seed," he says. "If market conditions at harvest time necessitate bulk or carload marketing, he will then be prepared for the emergency. Wheat, corn, livestock, cabbage and many other farm crops adapt themselves readily to which now prevail."

4 MORE TOWNSHIPS QUALIFY FOR THE TUBERCULOSIS TEST

During the last month Burnside, Cooper, Pike and Penn Townships qualified for the tuberculosis test on the Modified Accredited Area basis, having secured the consent of ninety per cent or more of the herd owners in each of the four townships. This makes a total of 15 townships, in the county, that have qualified, or an even half of the total number of townships.

The Farm Bureau received a communication from the Department of Animal Industry, stating that the testing would be started in the early part of June, if no further difficulties were encountered. At least ten townships will be tested at that time, and perhaps more, if there are not too many reactors. Since the amount of work that can be done will be determined entirely upon the money available at that time.

Up to the present time there are slightly over one hundred and twenty-five Townships, in the state, that have qualified for the test. At the time Clearfield County sent in the first eleven Townships, only eleven Townships were listed for a test, but since the first of March the other counties have been stepping along at a fast clip. It behooves each of the remaining townships in Clearfield County to get busy at once and try and qualify for the test, even though the work may not be done before next Fall, for unless the township qualifies and is sent in to take its place along with the other townships, it cannot be tested under the Modified Accredited Area plan. In cases where a township is not able to qualify through the lack of interest of some of the herd owners, an effort will be made to take care of the few who have signed up and desire to have their herds tested.

The local Farm Bureau is doing everything in their power to get the testing done as soon as possible and regret, very much, that the State was unable to do it before this time.

The standing of the remaining townships, in order of signatures received in the Farm Bureau Office are as follows:

Gulich	50%
Woodward	40%
Graham	36%
Ferguson	30%
Bigler	30%
Karthaus	25%
Girriard	23%
Boggs	22%
Bradford	20%
Knox	18%

standardization. Practicing growing methods that are approved by scientists and practical farmers will insure for farmers of Pennsylvania a market for their produce at harvest time."

The difficulties encountered by farmers in parts of this state today in disposing of the potato crop is not a demoralized potato market, according to the marketing specialist, but the inability of the grower to take advantage of the requirements of the trade and meet competition because of:

1. Less than carload amounts of any variety,
2. No standard variety,
3. Diseased stock,
4. Poor grading,
5. Unsucked potatoes,
6. Non-uniformity in storage.

"No agency can give much aid in marketing a poor article," he states. "It rests largely with the farmers of Pennsylvania to plant only a standard seed, to combine and so standardize the products to be disposed of in any community that they can favorably meet the competition of the general trade, then they will eliminate many of the unsatisfactory marketing methods to which now prevail."

Clean Wheat at Threshing Time

Foreign Material in Grain Has Run Up to 18 Per Cent of Entire Crop.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A section-wide campaign in the spring wheat belt of the Northwest to induce farmers to clean their wheat on the farm, and particularly at time of threshing, is being launched by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with local agricultural bodies including agricultural colleges, state marketing officials, farmers and commercial interests composed of dealers and millers. Broadside of grain cleaning demonstrations, county mass meetings, bulletins, moving pictures, lantern slides, and radio talks are to be used to bring home to farmers the message of clean wheat.

Success of the campaign will result not only in securing higher prices for farmers for their cleaned grain, but also in higher yields per acre through eliminating weeds in the grain fields and weed seeds in seed grain, the department points out.

Foreign Material in Grain.

In some grain-growing counties of the Northwest the average foreign material in grain has run up to around 18 per cent of the crop. Secretary Wallace in a statement recently made at the Farmers and Homemakers' Short Course at the University of Minnesota said that "Reports from 1,400 elevators in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana show that the farmers in these states in 1923 delivered to the elevators nearly 12,000,000 bushels of dockage in their wheat, or the equivalent of 22,500 carloads."

At a threshing rate of 7 cents per bushel it is estimated that the farmers of the four states paid over $875,000 for the threshing of their dockage in 1922, and that they paid around $800,000 for hauling the dockage to market. An investigation by the Department of Agriculture in 1923 showed that in Minnesota and the Dakotas, 96 per cent of the farmers visited were drilling with their wheat from 1,000 to 500,000 foreign seeds per acre.

"In 1923 we found that farmers in these states who cleaned their wheat before marketing gained on an average more than 5 cents per bushel," Secretary Wallace declared. "The Secretary of Agriculture in 1923 showed that in Minnesota and the Dakotas, 96 per cent of the farmers visited were drilling with their wheat from 1,000 to 500,000 foreign seeds per acre."

The appointment of each new secretary of agriculture has been the signal to send delegations to Washington to ask for changes in the federal grain grades. Certain groups in the spring wheat territory have long been agitating a loosening up of the federal grades to give inferior wheat a grade equal to that of good wheat. On the other hand, producers of superior and clean wheat have felt that the grades should be narrowed to exclude altogether from the high grades wheat with even a small percentage of foreign materials.

It has been the continuous feeling of each secretary of agriculture, however, since the federal standards were first put into effect, that it would be discriminatory and false economy to label an inferior product as of good quality, and producers have been repeatedly urged to improve the quality and condition of their grain to bring it into the higher grades. This can be done largely if producers will make an earnest effort to remove the foreign material from wheat before shipping to market, the department says.

Improve Seed and Grain.
Field demonstrations in grain cleaning by department representatives have proved the efficiency of grain cleaning methods, and it is expected that in many instances groups of farmers will employ cleaning machines on the farm to improve the quality of their seed and marketable grain. Savings of more than 7 cents per bushel have been effected in practical cleaning tests. Allowing 2 cents a bushel for the cost of cleaning, the net gain to farmers was over 5 cents a bushel.

There has been a gradual decrease in wheat yields in the spring wheat region in the Northwest due largely to the increasing quantity of weeds in the grain fields, the department says. Some lands have become so foul that they are no longer profitable for wheat production. On the other hand, winter wheat which contains very little dockage has generally increased in yield per acre.

The public and private forces now organized to attack the problem of cleaning wheat in the Northwest are launching an offensive in true campaign style. It is war to the death of the weed. The Department of Agriculture has also prepared moving pictures and lantern slides that vividly convey the importance of cleaning wheat on the farm. Illustrated lectures will be given wherever halls are available throughout the region. The short courses given by agricultural colleges will include considerable instruction on the subject.

It is estimated that if average yields are increased by as little as two bushels per acre, and a saving of 5 cents can be effected by retaining the dockage on the farm for feed, by saving the freight costs of hauling the dockage to terminal markets, and by the higher price that clean wheat will bring on the market, the campaign will have accomplished conspicuous results.

On the retreat from Moscow, Napoleon traveled from near Vilna to Paris in 312 hours, a journey of about 1,400 miles. This was an average of almost five miles an hour, and was remarkable, considering conditions of roads and weather.

Miles of Pipe Bring Water From Mountains

To bring mountain water to Tulsa, Okla., from a source 60 miles away in the Spavinaw hills, a pipe two feet in diameter is being laid. Scheduled to be completed early in the spring, it will carry the fluid to a community of 100,000 persons at the rate of 25,000,000 gallons a day. The water will be brought to a low spot within five miles of the city by gravity, and from there pumped to a second reservoir on the highest of the surrounding hills. The system is declared to be one of the longest gravity pipe lines in the world, and will cost approximately $7,000,000.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Old John Collier on the Job

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

JOHN COLLIER of Kankakee is the dean of all county agents and his success is due to the community spirit he has fostered among the people.

"Probably his greatest achievement is the organization of his young men and women. He learned early in the farm bureau history that if he were compelled to go about from farm to farm talking to old and young, that he would be years getting acquainted with the problems which need his attention," says Dennis A. Merriman of the American Steel and Wire Co. "He also learned that it was difficult to make much change in the habits of farmers of middle life and while they are all very friendly with John, he made up his mind that he would cultivate the young people and he organized both the young men and young women in county community clubs. Now, when there is anything doing it is as good as done because they all jump to their stations and put it across in such a way that the older folks fall into line and like it. John is a diplomat and that is why he succeeds."

SOLDERING IN CHINA

George W. Thomas, of South 4th street, received a letter from his son Myles Thomas, who is with Uncle Sam's regular army at Tien Tsin, China. The young man enlisted at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., July 19 1923, and sailed from New York July 27th, for China via of the Panama Canal, landing in China on September 30, 1923.

Hangings Stopped Growth

There stands in a field near "Camp Lodge," not far from Burford, Oxfordshire, an oak with the inscription on its trunk, "H. D.; T. D., 1784." It is this tree on which the bodies of Henry and Thomas Dundon were gibbeted after being hanged at Gloucester for highway robbery. They were leaders of the "Dundon Gang," who once terrorized that countryside. It is not a large tree. Local superstition declares that it has ceased to grow since being put to that use.

About one hundred of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Spingola, visited their home in East End Saturday evening for the purpose of surprising Mrs. Spingola on her birthday. An enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Baistre, of Philipsburg, parents of Mrs. Spingola, were among the guests.

Chickens and Eggs Help Improve Home

Poultry Products Favored to Increase Incomes.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Farm women of Charleston, county, S. C., sold $441 pounds of poultry and 30,000 dozen eggs during 1923, as compared with 600 pounds of market poultry and 1,000 dozen eggs in 1920. This large increase in three years was accomplished, on the part of extension workers co-operatively directed by the United States Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural colleges, by constantly emphasizing the value of pure bred poultry and of the need of grading all products. The home demonstration agent rendered all possible assistance in the marketing of these products, but the good results are attributed largely to the fact that at every meeting held, no matter what subject was discussed, poultry was advised as a means of increasing the home income. Out of 130 women enrolled in home demonstration work, 70 improved their flocks by the purchase of standard-bred cockerels or baby chicks.

In addition to selling poultry, 3,000 pounds of butter and fresh vegetables, amounting to $2,500.50, were sold in the county. The money earned by the women in these ways was divided into three portions. One part was laid away for a rainy day, one part was spent in supplying special needs of the children or for food or clothing, and the third part was spent for home improvements. Among these improvements, 23 houses were remodeled by having additions, new floors or new lighting systems. Eleven women bought gasoline tractors, two made steel tractors, and four bought kitchen cabinets; 15 planted fruit trees and 130 planted local trees and shrubs to beautify the home grounds.

Alfalfa Hay Tends to Insure Strong Litters

Alfalfa hay fed to sows during the winter months tends to insure healthy litters of pigs. Alfalfa is rich in protein and minerals and furnishes these elements at low cost. There are three ways in which it can be fed: Let the sows eat it from the stack, feed it in a trough, or add about five or ten pounds of chopped alfalfa or alfalfa hay to two pounds of a grain mixture. The haves can be gathered up from the barn floor where the hay is piled from the mow.

Some suggested ration suitable for a sow and her six pigs is as follows: Alfalfa hay, one or six ears of corn, one quart of tankage; alfalfa hay, one or three pounds of corn; alfalfa hay, three or four pounds of grain, one quart of skim milk. For growing pigs the proportion of tankage to grain may be increased.

Whole Milk Superior for Fattening Young Calves

Whole milk is superior to skim milk for fattening young calves. This practice produces meat of the highest quality. If one cow does not supply enough milk to fatten the calf all that it needs, then two nurse cows may be provided. Make sure that the calf is confined in a box stall heavily bedded with straw. This will promote the flow of a greater part of the milk, and it is inactivity of the udder caused by lack of milk that hinders most of the best quality.

Comfortable Pig Gains

A fat pig that weighs 150 pounds during February that is eating a pound and a half a day out in the open will not hold his own in weight. The same pig, in a warm, sheltered place, if he is fed, will make about a pound and a half gain per day. In the former case the pound and a half of feed, productively speaking, is lost because no gain is made from it; in the latter case the six pounds produces a pound and a half gain.

Farm Notes

Sweet clover makes ideal pasture for sheep.

Inoculation has been proven to be quite a figure in inducing clover stands to come satisfactorily.

Farmers with roadside markets should take a tip from city advertisers and start their signs several miles down the road.

Kerosene emulsion is one of the oldest and most effective of home-made remedies for sucking insects. It is used in fighting sucking insects having soft bodies.

A few days spent in hauling straw and filling the gulleys in fields may pay better than an equal amount of time spent trying to grow crops where the soil is slipping away.

A good louse powder to use on cattle during cold weather is made from one-half salicylic acid and one-half sulphur. Rub well into the wrinkles on the neck, the head and other places where lice hide.

Wear Sandals to Save Floor

In order to preserve the floor of the Westminster abbey chapter house in London, visitors are requested to remove their walking shoes and put on sandals before entering. The floor in the historic building dates back to 1290. The rule is enforced strictly and there is a watchman at all times to see that it is carried out. A generous supply of sandals, including all lengths and widths, is kept on hand.

Unanimous

When the term of the old negro preacher had expired he arose and said:

"Bredren! de time nu heah fo' de relection ob yo' pastah fo' anudder year. All dese fahorin' me fo' yo' pastah will please say 'aye.'"

The preacher had made himself rather unpopular and there was no response.

"Ha," he said, "silence gibs consent. Use yo' pastah fo' anudder year."

Crowding of Chicks Is Bad in Brooding

Usually Caused by Little Fellows Getting Chilled.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One of the most disastrous conditions, according to the officials of the United States Department of Agriculture, that can occur in the brooding of chicks is to allow them to crowd together. Crowding is caused either through the chicks becoming overheated or chilled, usually the latter. Crowding may not only cause loss through death of many chicks, but many others pay suffer to such an extent as never to regain normal health. Crowding is an indication of improper methods of brooding, and the normal development of the chicks is interrupted.

In order to prevent chicks from crowding employ the following suggestions given by the department:

Be sure to have good ventilation in the brooder, but avoid drafts. If there is danger from overheating, bank the fire in the coal brooder stoves or burn a lower flame in the oil-burning brooder. Open the windows slightly, but be very sure to avoid a draft over the chicks or they will catch cold. On the other hand, if the chicks are chilled they are bound to crowd. When they are first put in the brooders the temperature should be about 95 degrees F., and it should be maintained fairly constantly for a week or so, depending upon weather conditions. As the chicks get older the temperature should be lowered gradually; the cooler the weather the less the temperature is lowered. If the chicks start to crowd, it is fairly certain that they are too cool and more heat should be supplied. Watch the brooder room carefully and try to keep the chicks comfortable.

A Self-Medicator

Francis Bacon, the philosopher, was another self-medicator. When it rained he would ride out in an open coach with barrel head to receive the benefit of irrigation, as he put it.

Education Invaluable

Laws for the liberal education of youth are so extremely wise and useful that, to a humane and generous mind, no expense for this purpose would be thought extravagant.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

REAL PURPOSE OF "PEACE MOVEMENTS"

Characterizing efforts of certain so-called "peace movements" as insidious attempts of radicals to gain control of United States, the American Legion commission of the American Legion is warning members of that organization against participation.

"We know that war is terrible," says a bulletin just issued by the Legion's commission. "Many brave lives have been sacrificed in defense of American principles and ideals. Are we going to allow desecration of these lives by a lot of extreme pacifists who hide behind the cloak of the Deity?" the bulletin asks.

Garland W. Powell, director of the Americanism commission, prepared the bulletin, in which he says that the Women's Peace society, the Women's Peace Union of the Western Hemisphere and the Fellowship of Youth for Peace are bodies which, in exacting anti-war pledges from members, will preclude such Americans from participation in defense of the United States should it be drawn into war. He says that the efforts of these organizations are used by radicals as tools and that, working in fertile fields among the youth and Bible classes of the nation they are gaining strength. He urges that every American who hears of such meetings attend, and if possible present the patriotic viewpoint of America.

They are the tools of the revolutionaries, the communists," the bulletin says. "Nothing would suit them better than to have all Americans sign away of this kind. Then they would be in a position to seize our country and destroy our institutions. It is there ever as a time in the history of our nation that action is needed. It is now."

when such anti-American movements as the one described are in progress. Show these people that we have no place for them in our institutions and government," the bulletin concludes.

Trades or Professions for Individual Posts

Formation of posts of the American Legion to specifically serve certain trades or professions is growing rapidly. Many posts in the organization number as members, doctors and dentists, employees of great corporations, members of fraternal orders, or some other group that has a trade or similar interest as a reason for their affiliation.

One of the most decided of such movements is that of advertising men, who as World War veterans, are associating themselves with the Legion and carrying on in their own line. Strong posts of this character have been formed in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Boston. In Cleveland, another post composed exclusively of advertising men is in process of formation, and groups in St. Louis and Indianapolis include members of printing and allied trades—advertising men, journalists, circulation men, printers, pressmen and similar professions.

From many of these posts come some of the liveliest ideas in post advertising that are seen in the organization, and it is not unlikely that department and national officials of the Legion will call on the man-power of posts for help in preparation of advertising material in the future.

Legion Will Battle Against Illiteracy

A move to wipe out illiteracy from the state of Georgia will be undertaken immediately by the American Legion in that state, according to recent action taken at a conference of all posts. The Georgia illiteracy commission will receive not only financial support from the Legion, but the man-power of the veterans' organization will be made available as well, according to statements made by officials.

Georgia has more than 70,000 white illiterates, and the greatest need of the state in combating illiteracy is the provision of funds with which to open schools for these men and women, the Legionnaires were told.

Garland W. Powell, director of the Legion's national Americanism commission, told the delegates present that among these illiterates, radicals might find fertile field for their work for overthrow of the nation's institutions, as the insidious propaganda of such forces is spread through the unknown.

Painting Presented to Post

A realistic war painting, depicting American engineers holding a portion of the line near Amiens, is now the property of a Legion post in Adams, Mass. The painting, one of the largest of war canvases, is the work of Harold Brett, a well-known artist, and was presented to the Legion by Arthur W. Safford, registrar of deeds.

Origin of Pop

According to H. L. Mencken, author of "The American Language," the word "pop," meaning vim, punch, snap, vigor, is a shortened form of "pepper." But it does not appear that "pepper" was ever used extensively in the modern popular sense of "pop." The fact probably is that "pop" was a new coinage merely suggested by "pepper," but not necessarily agreeing with it in meaning.

SUPREME COURT MAJORITIES

The annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce condemns the proposal to require more than a mere majority of the Supreme Court to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional.

This is a natural position for the Chamber to take. Yet it seems doubtful whether it represents a careful and dispassionate view of the situation.

Conservatives—and Americans are normally conservative—do not like to tamper with such a great, vital and highly respected branch of government as the Supreme Court, lest the authority of that body be weakened and the foundations of government shaken. Yet as matters stand, the authority of the Supreme Court has been weakened by the very fact that its numerous decisions by a mere five-to-four vote, and its occasional reversal of previous close decisions, have somewhat weakened confidence in it.

A public which is accustomed to regarding the unanimous agreement of twelve men as necessary for a jury verdict naturally comes to have less absolute faith in a judicial decision which four judges out of nine say is bad law. Many perfectly respectable people find nothing really "radical" in suggesting that it would promote public confidence in the court and make our governmental system more stable if a big enough majority were required—such as six or seven judges out of nine—to guard against the insinuations of chance or prejudice which always follow close decisions, especially in constitutional matters involving human rights.

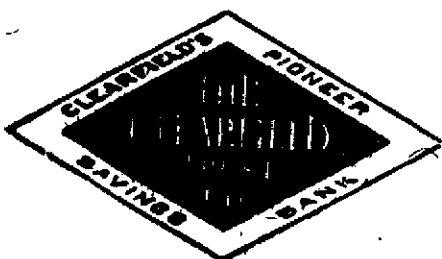

BOB AND CURFEW

Towns with a curfew ordinance are confronted with a new difficulty, so it is reported, as a result of bobbed hair. Grandmother and flapper granddaughter look so much alike that the officers engaged in enforcing the law find themselves in embarrassing positions when they try to observe curfew.

Obviously it is too late to use this fact as an argument against the shearing of feminine locks. Canute's little lesson about turning back the tide has been learned more or less thoroughly. On the other hand, it seems a pity to use this as an argument against curfew laws where the latter are useful or necessary.

But why worry? It is only a matter of time and adjustment. When there are none but bobbed heads among the ladies of the land, of all the ages that ladies attain, then things will assume their normal order again and it will be possible once more for the casual observer to distinguish, by other signs, between the high school miss and her mother or grandmother.

The Trade Mark of a Friendly Bank

Progress Editorials for Women

FOR FIVE YEARS

By FLORENCE L. LIES

Perhaps we're all wrong about divorce. There's an easy answer to that. A man, most any man, even the best of them, asks why he should run after a street car after he has caught it.

But if two people knew that five years would end the bargain, unless each actually asked to have it renewed, and if those two people really cared for each other to start with, perhaps they would enter upon a five year courtship. By that time the habit of courtesy, of trying to please, of putting the best foot foremost, would be fixed.

The trouble is that we take too much for granted with each other. Love doesn't like to be treated like that. It likes to be tended and coaxed and encouraged.

Perhaps the old homopathic remedy of like cures like, is just what we need to cure divorce. "All right then," says the doctor, "try having all you want of this and see if your system won't develop its own cure against it."

The KITCHEN CABINET

(By Bert Ball, National Crop Improvement Service.)
People accustomed from infancy to lie down on feathers have no idea how hard a paving stone is without trying it.—Dickens.

TASTY EATING

Those who know, tell us that a duck should never be stuffed if one likes all the flavor in the bird.

Braised Ducks.

—Lay three slices of fat, smoked ham upon the grating of the roaster; next, a minced onion, a stalk of celery, chopped, a sliced carrot and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Clean and truss the ducks, lay them upon the vegetables and pour a cupful of boiling water over them. Cover the roaster closely and cook in a moderate oven for two hours. Take up the ducks, strain the liquor from the pan and let it cool sufficiently to congeal the fat. Skim the gravy carefully and return to the fire in a saucepan, keeping the ducks hot over boiling water closely covered. Boil the gravy; add a teaspoonful of lemon juice and thicken slightly with flour. Have the cooked giblets chopped and stir into the gravy. Pour this sauce again over the ducks in the roaster, bring all to the boiling point and serve with the sauce poured round the fowl. Serve with apple sauce or currant jelly.

Fish Turbot.—Take one can of salmon, remove the skin and bones and flake into small pieces. Make a dressing with one-half cupful of flour, add enough cold milk to make a paste, then turn it into a pint of hot milk and cook until it is smooth and thick. Cook, add two well-beaten eggs, one-half cupful of melted butter and seasonings to taste. Put the fish and dressing in alternate layers and cover with buttered crumbs and bake one-half hour. The liquor may be used for part of the fat in the sauce if desired.

Every-Day Cake.—Beat four table-spoonfuls of butter to a cream; add one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of raisins, two egg yolks beaten light, one-quarter cupful each of maple and corn syrup, one-half cupful of milk and one and three-quarters cupfuls of flour; a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, half a teaspoonful of soda and the same of salt and more, all sifted together. Add the stiffly-beaten whites of the eggs and turn into a shallow pan. Sprinkle with chopped nuts or raisins and dredge with sugar. Bake in pan or longer, depending upon the depth of the mixture.

Too Ambitious

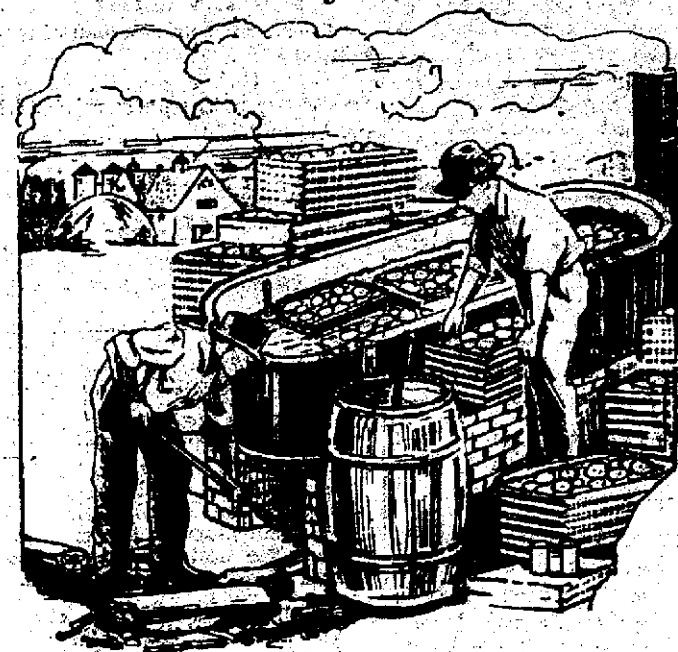

The colonel was delivering an address to junior officers up for examination. He dwelt with much emphasis on the fact that each officer should devote the intervening time to prepare for the final examination. "The examination papers are now in the hands of the printer. Are there any questions to be asked?" Silence prevailed. "Well, a word from the rear quietly, please. What's the printer, sir?"

Hot Formaldehyde for Potatoes

(By Bert Ball, National Crop Improvement Service.)

EVERY farmer is sold on the idea that he would make a lot more money if he should treat his seed potatoes for scab and black-scurf (rhizoctonia). The old methods were tedious and messy but Doctor Melhus of Iowa has devised a method which is quick and just as efficient as corrosive sublimate, which is a dangerous poison.

Dr. R. C. Rose, the potato specialist of Minnesota Agricultural college, says: "The solution is made by adding two pints of formaldehyde to 30 gallons of water. Heat to 118 degrees to 122 degrees and keep temperature constant while immersing the potatoes for two minutes either in crates or wire baskets.

"A good way to keep up the temperature is to dig a trench under a stock tank and build a fire under it.

"Use a good thermometer. Have a reserve supply of the solution in a barrel to supply waste or to reduce temperature in case it gets too hot. Have one man watch the fire and temperature and the other man will be kept busy handling the crates. Cover the crates with a canvas for one hour. Then the potatoes are ready to cut."

"Can you raise 400 bushels per acre?"

Too tired to care

It is SO unnecessary!

Artistic Homes

(By Bert Ball, National Crop Improvement Service.)

A WEATHER-TIGHT and durable house which requires little or no painting should be built of an elastic stucco which is plastered on a triangular mesh reinforcement. Driveways and retaining walls should also be reinforced and the older they are the better. They will never scale or crack if the sand and gravel is clean and correctly mixed. It is a very interesting club project and should be included in all farm courses.

IT PAYS TO TEST ALL SEEDS

(By Bert Ball, National Crop Improvement Service.)
WHEN SEEDS fail to come up it is usually too late to replant. Take an ordinary blotter. Divide it into thirds. Wet it. Count 100 seeds into center third. Fold over end thirds, covering the seeds. Tear a strip of cloth like a wick. Hang it out of bottom of fold. Wrap any number of tests in waxed paper, leaving ends open; hang ends of all wicks in glass of water.
After five or six days open up test and count seeds which have strong root and shoot. If sample does not germinate 95 per cent you had better get better seed if you can as planting more seed will not make up the loss.

Royal Baking Powder is made from Cream of Tartar, derived from grapes—rich, ripe, healthful grapes grown in the famous vineyards of Southern Europe.

That is why Royal is so wholesome and healthful—why so many doctors, nurses and dietitians prefer it and recommend it—why so many women, the world over, insist upon it.

Then too, Royal gives the food such a fine, even texture—such a delicious, appetizing flavor—such superior keeping qualities.

Make your next cake a pronounced success—make it wholesome, healthful and delicious, by using Royal—the only nationally distributed Cream of Tartar baking powder.

What's bred in the bone comes out in the soup.
Hunger is a necessary evil; it promotes industry.
Ignorance of the law excuses no one who hasn't a pull.
Poor men live longer than rich men, because wholesome fare is simple.
Probably a sweet disposition has its way as often as a muleish one.

Laughing at ridiculous propositions is first would save fighting over them later.
A penny saved is a penny earned, and a dollar saved is one you didn't want.

Honesty doesn't change much through life. Honest once, always honest, as a rule.

Stolen Masterpieces

Brought to America

Whenever a valuable painting disappears from some European gallery it is the custom of foreign police departments and detectives first to watch ships sailing for America. This practice resulted from the fact that in past years many famous paintings were stolen and then smuggled into the United States. Among the more valuable paintings which were hidden in America are Chinsborough's "Duchess of Devonshire," which lay hidden in New York, Brooklyn and Boston warehouses for 25 years, and a portion of Murillo's "Vision of St. Anthony," which was stolen from St. Mary's Cathedral, Seville, says a writer in the Mentor.

Say you saw it in The Progress.

Another Blessing

There is this to be said for burial in the potters field—no one 3,000 years from now will disturb the peace of the grave.—New York Tribune.

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union)
All kind things must be done on their own account and for their own sake, and without the least reference to any gratitude.

A different pudding will be found in the following combination:
Butter and a pinch of salt.
One cupful of brown sugar and two tablespoons of butter over the fire in a frying pan, when dark brown pour over the mixture two cupfuls of boiling milk and simmer until dissolved and smooth. Meanwhile soak a thick slice of bread in cold water until very soft. Squeeze out all the water and sugar into this. Pour the milk and sugar mixture over the bread and add the beaten yolks of two eggs, a little salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a pan forty-five minutes. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, add two tablespoons of powdered sugar and the juice of half a lemon. Spread over the top and brown in a moderate oven. Serve warm or cold.

A Sweet Sandwich Filling—Chop three or four tablespoonfuls of pecan meats, add a pinch maple sugar of the same amount and beat enough cream to make the mixture of the consistency to spread. Sprinkle with salt and serve as a filling for white bread sandwiches.

Eggless Nugget Cake—Cream one-half cupful of shortening with two cupfuls of light brown sugar. Sift together two cupfuls of pastry flour, one-half teaspoonful each of soda, salt, and one teaspoonful of baking powder; add one cupful of raisins, the same of nuts, mix all together and add two squares of melted chocolate, melted over hot water. Bake thirty-five minutes.

Persian Cake—Cut a large round sponge cake into five equal round slices. Place the first slice on a plate and spread the second with jam or jelly. Place the third with raspberry jam. Lay the four slices together in the original form and press lightly together. Now cut the center from the cake leaving a three-inch border. Put the piece taken out in a bowl with fruit juices to thoroughly soak the cake. Replace in the cavity and place the last slice over all the top, and cover with a thick pink icing; decorate with citron, almonds and candied rose leaves.

This is a sample pudding that may be found in this section of the state. Should you find a better one, please send it to us, so that we may be able to put it in the next issue of the New Clearfield Progress.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

A regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Merry. The leader was Mrs. Carrie B. Smith.

After devotional by the President, an address "The Call of Today" was given by the County President, Miss LaRue M. Chorpennig who said the call of today should be the young people to carry on the work of Law Enforcement through their generation since all authorities concede that the 18th Amendment was secured by the votes of those who had received Scientific Temperance Instruction in our schools through the past 25 years and the call to the Ballot Box where lies the real power for Law Enforcement. Some of the men in the present Congress have been sent there by only 13 to 15 per cent of the voters in their district. President Coolidge has said "when an enlightened electorate acts I have no fear of the result." $5.00 was then given to the Young People's Branch.

Mrs. Bouton read "Prohibition's effect on Industrial Life Challenges Attention of World." That prohibition is tending to stabilize labor power, both as to dependability and efficiency is the belief of Isaac F. North, one of our largest employers of labor. It has affected business and of necessity improves credit and many other things.

Mrs. Scott McKelvey then told how Prohibition affected the Stock yard district of Chicago. People do not move away from the district as of old for the reason that with well lighted streets, no disorder and all business closed about the usual closing hour, the district does not suffer by contrast with other suburban places. All real estate men in this locality, acknowledge that prohibition has been a great booster in their business.

Mrs. Howard read the testimony of Hon. P. P. Claxon, United States Commissioner of Education, "How the teachers helped change the thought of the Nation." He said with all persons who are interested in the education of children, in the upbuilding of humanity and the attainment of the highest ideals of democracy, I rejoice for this was written in 1920, and the Commissioner further stated the schools of the country have played a very important part.

Mrs. Merrey then read the resolution recently passed by the M. E. Conference in regard to the Beer Bill before Congress.

Clearfield Union, as usual, expects to serve the soldiers on Memorial Day. Excellent refreshments were served during the social hour, after which meeting adjourned.

Absent-Minded People

Speaking of absent-minded people, we unearth the fact that Adam Smith, the political economist, was also absent-minded. One Sunday morning he walked 12 miles along the king's highway and presented himself in a crowd of church clothed safely in his night-shirt.—Alice Mason Johnson, in Brooklyn Eagle.

Green Gold

The term green gold originated in the early days when someone declared that metals went through a process of evolution and ripened at last to a finished product. The originator of this false theory claimed to have the secret that added gold in refining. Green gold is an alloy. When 17 per cent silver is mixed with gold, a green color is produced.

Origin of Schools in Scotland

Elementary schools were established in Scotland by the provisions of the elementary education act of 1872. Prior to that, however, education had been regulated by the Scottish parliament. As early as 1280 an act was passed for settling schools, providing for the maintenance of a school in every parish in connection with Kirk.

Portrait Hidden in Ring

Rare indeed were the rings worn by Stuart partisans in England after the execution of King Charles I. Under a large diamond in a hidden capsule, was concealed a miniature portrait of the king.

Threats

I consider it a mark of great prudence in a man to abstain from threats or any contemptuous expressions, for neither of these weaken the enemy, but threats make him more cautious, and the other excites his hatred, and a desire to revenge himself.—Macmillan.

"Just Average" Persons

People who continue to be "just average" do so because they are saturated with the belief that they can never be any more. They have thus "fenced in" their talents so they cannot get into the pastures green of greater achievement.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Lebanon—Health authorities have forced inoculation upon members of Faith Tabernacle, a faith cure sect, after six deaths in one family. The deaths were laid to diphtheria. Nine homes belonging to Tabernacle families are under quarantine.

Harrisburg—One hundred and forty-five prosecutions were brought for violations of the State's pure food laws during the first quarter of the current year according to an announcement of F. Willis, Secretary of Agriculture. Among the impure foods sold were cakes colored with coal tar dye, decomposed turkey and candy containing sulphur dioxide.

Philadelphia—Three women were found dead from illuminating gas in different sections of the city last night. One of them, Mrs. Daniel Taylor, 77, committed suicide, according to police. The other two were victims of leaking connections.

Philadelphia—Mrs. Gertrude D. Riley, a widow, is defendant in a suit to recover $300,000 filed by a trustee in bankruptcy of a defunct brokerage firm. Her husband was not a member of the firm when it failed, but the Trustee maintains that when he was, he used the firm's money to buy securities which he then gave to his wife.

It's Worry That Kill

Hard work, with a peaceful, contented mind, will never kill any man and when it is accompanied by rest, hope and joy, it builds up system and prolongs existence, just of shortening it; but worry kills, not to stop it is slow but certain, as well as the destruction of one of the joy in the lives of one's and choicest friends.—Arthur M. Crane, Illinois Central Magazine.

THE quality that makes the Usco Cord an outstanding value didn't just happen.

It was the result of a determination on the part of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world to set a new standard in medium priced tire equipment.

It begins on the company's plantations in the Far East where 5,000,000 carefully selected rubber trees furnish latex for the new patented latex process of treating cords.

It follows through every method used in their manufacture.

It ends only when every economy in distribution through thousands of dealer outlets has been effected.

Car owners find the Usco Cord a handsome easy-steering tire giving positive traction and non-skid protection with many added qualities of strength and service. Ask your dealer.

U. S. Tires are the only tires in the world made of cords solutioned in raw rubber latex.

MRS. RALPH WISE

Our community was shocked and saddened recently by the death of one of its most estimable residents, Mrs. Ralph Wise, of Chestnut Ridge. She passed away at her home Tuesday morning, April 22 at 3 o'clock a. m., death caused by a complication of diseases.

She had not suffered long as she was only confined to her bed one week but was very ill three days before her death. This occurred in spite of every care and attention given her.

Mrs. Wise was born near Curwensville, Pa. Nov. 9 1901, making her age 22 years, 5 months and 13 days, at the time of her demise.

Her maiden name was Wava Lucinda Irwin and she was—the oldest daughter and James and Ruth Anna Irwin.

She was united in marriage to Ralph D. Wise on Aug. 21, 1919.

The deceased was a devoted wife and mother and a lady of many pleasing graces. She had a host of friends as her pleasant personality won the love of all who knew her, young and old.

Her death leaves her family and friends desolate, although they may be comforted by the thought that the time had come when she should be taken to her Maker where she would be happy, free from all earthly pain.

She is survived by her husband, Ralph D. Wise, Anna Lee, (Billie and mother and a lady of many pleasing graces. She had a host of friends as her pleasant personality won the love of all who knew her, young and old.

REMOVE MALE BIRDS FROM POULTRY FLOCK

Practically all the eggs that rot on the market are fertile. This means that poultrymen and farmers of the country will produce better quality eggs if they will kill off their male birds just as soon as the breeding season

There are some very remarkable cock birds in the flock and seems desirable to keep them over for breeding purposes. In other year, these birds should be shut up in another pen. A little wire runway that can be moved to nem ground at frequent intervals makes an excellent "Summer Jail" for these birds.

WHITE HOUSE HAS HOPE SENATE WILL OK KEY BONUS VETO

Washington, May 14. (INS.)—The action of the Senate in sustaining President Coolidge's veto on the Bursum pension bill encouraged the White House today to believe there is a possibility of the soldiers' bonus-insurance bill also being defeated this session.

Administration supporters, at any rate, regarded the victory over the Bursum bill as "a hopeful sign" and they were urging the President today to speed up action on the bonus bill which has now been on his desk several days.

It is possible that the veto message on the bonus may go to the Capitol today, although it probably will be deferred until tomorrow.

HARRIS DOMESTIC TANGLE GETS INTO A SERIOUS SHAPE

New York, May 14 (INS.)—Mrs. Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris, southern beauty was almost hysterical in jail today, following her arrest on third degree forgery charges preferred by her husband, Beverly D. Harris, former Vice President of the National City Bank.

Separated by only a fifteen foot wall from several prisoners arrested for intoxication, she sat in her cell waiting for word from her attorney who had rushed away after her arrest in efforts to raise $3,000 bail.

When it appeared improbable she could get bail, Mrs. Harris sent four telegrams, one to George Gordon Battle, lawyer and others to friends in the Midwest and south.

Harris caused her arrest on the forgery charges based on the recent letter she filed as a basis for the new trial in the annulment suit her husband won.

Following a consultation with District Attorney Banton, Harris accompanied by detectives appeared at the Hotel McAlpine where Mrs. Harris was registered as Mrs. Elizabeth Long, under which name police allege she had reserved accommodations for her departure for St. Louis today.

Mrs. Harris was being interviewed by a newspaper woman. When her husband and the detectives walked in she cried:

"Beverly, can you do this to me?" Mrs. Harris was taken to police headquarters in a patrol wagon.

After she had been booked the question of bail was raised and Harris' lawyer, R. W. Alley, declared Banton had requested it be fixed at $5,000.

"We will agree to $3,000 bail," Harris said.

C. C. Daniels, a lawyer, who had arranged to meet Mrs. Harris at headquarters, glared at the banker and said:

"There is something sinister behind this arrest. They knew Mrs. Harris could not get $5,000 bail quickly at night."

The letter, which was the basis of the forgery charge, Mrs. Harris alleges was written by Harris to another woman, and she contended it exonerated her from the charges her husband had made in his annulment case. Harris denounced the letter as a forgery and declared he "would leave no step untaken to punish the fraud."

W. H. Stevens, manager of the Shoe Market, is quietly celebrating his birthday today. Everything is rather "dry" about it but the weather.

PRESIDENTIAL VETO TO BE PERSONALLY GIVEN TO CONGRESS

Washington, May 14. (INS.)—President Coolidge plans to go before Congress in person to deliver his message vetoing the soldiers' bonus bill, according to reports current at the Capitol this afternoon.

The President has until midnight Friday to act on the bill. It was said at the White House that the President's plans were not definite.

OLD TIME RESIDENT CALLED TO HER REWARD

In the death of Mrs. Ella Victoria Irwin Snyder, which occurred at her home on Market street at 4:55 o'clock, Sunday May 11, 1924, Clearfield loses one of her oldest native residents. Mrs. Snyder was not only a member of one of our very oldest pioneer families but was one of the first children born within the present corporate limits. She was four years past the four score mark and lived all of that long life right here in Clearfield, where she was revered and respected for her saintly, christian character by all our people.

She was a remarkable woman in many ways, retaining all of her faculties practically unimpaired right up until within a few short weeks of her death. Death was due to a gradual general decline and its coming brought with it but little pain or inconvenience while her loved ones had the extreme satisfaction of the realization that her mental powers remained practically unimpaired up until almost the very end. Her end was especially quiet and peaceful and came almost imperceptibly at the end of a week of unconsciousness during which not a trace of pain or distress was noticeable. Truly of Mrs. Snyder it may be said "she wrapped the drapery of her couch about her and lay down to pleasant dreams."

Ella Victoria Irwin was the daughter of Jacob and Priscilla Collins Irwin and was born in Clearfield August 3d 1839. She was one of a family of six children and was the last of her family the four sisters and one brother having preceded her to the grave. They were: Mrs. Catherine Cook of Lexington Neb.; Mrs. Leitia Poland, Lock Haven, Pa.; Mrs. Elizabeth DuGan Lowden, Iowa; Mrs. Martha Shaw and Garret G. Irwin, Clearfield, Pa.

She was united in marriage with George W. Snyder on April 25, 1865. He passed away May 6, 1913. Mrs. Snyder was a lifelong member of the Episcopal church and took a great interest in all the activities of her church. She was ever the ideal Christian wife and mother whose constant thought and endeavor was to make this life pleasant and worth living, not alone for her loved ones but for all those who came within the range of her kindly, christian, neighborly ministrations.

She is survived by one son, O. Guy Snyder, of Morehead, Ky.; Mrs. John H. Martin, of Clearfield; Mrs. Charles P. Jacox, of DuBois, and Miss Eva, at home.

The funeral was held from St. Andrews' Episcopal church this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. R. A. Hatch assisted by Rev. J. F. John officiating. Interment was made in Hillcrest cemetery.

$50,000 LANCASTER FIRE

Mrs. Dale Chaplin and two children left yesterday for Hollywood, Cal., where they will join Mr. Chaplin and make their future home.

Raymond Martin is home from Pittsburgh to attend the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Geo. Snyder.

UNDERWOOD, SMITH AND RALSTON WANT ANTI-KLAN PLANK

By GEORGE R. HOLMES (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, May 14.—An informal but nevertheless close working agreement exists between the Underwood forces, the Smith forces, and the Ralston forces in the Democratic Presidential fight, whereby they will insert a common cause at New York of the insertion of an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank in the Democratic platform for 1924. This was learned today from political sources, usually reliable.

It is, in effect, a coalition against Wm. Gibbs McAdoo that may have a significance far outweighing the plank issue by itself. The plank issue has afforded the opponents of McAdoo a common ground on which they can stand at the start of convention and once having found such a common ground it becomes easier to find it on other issues.

By sort of mutual consent, the fight to have the platform declare against the Klan will be started and pushed at New York by the Underwood managers. The Smith contingent will support it for the reason that Gov. Smith is a Catholic, and the Ralston people will fall into line because the Klan issue is predominant in Indiana and the Klan is boasting there that it just nominated a Republican candidate for governor.

Senator Underwood himself is leaving the bulk of the fight against the Klan to his managers. He has spoken against the order on several occasions, but in the main he has permitted Carlin, his campaign director, to do the heavy firing in his name.

Carlin charged today that the Klan is busily engaged in packing state delegations for McAdoo. He backed it up by producing a letter purporting to have been issued by the grand dragon, realm of Georgia, stating that it was "Mr. McAdoo's desire that his friends 'elect Major Cohen,' Democratic national committeeman from Georgia, and that if Major Cohen went to New York 'the Klan's interest will be ably protected.'"

INDIANA KLUXER SUES FOR $200,000

Indianapolis, Ind., May 14. (INS.)—Suits against Walter Blossert Imperial representative of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana; Hiram W. Evans, Imperial Wizard with headquarters at Atlanta and Robert W. Lyons, of Richmond, asking a total of $200,000 damages, were declared here today by D. C. Stephenson, whose attorneys filed them, to be a second step in his efforts to "release the Indiana Klan from domination, by Atlanta."

Slander, libel and defamation of character were alleged to have been committed by the defendants in the petitions.

Stephenson charged Blossert with having referred to him as a white slaver. An order by Imperial Wizard Evans in which he is alleged to have charged Stephenson with drunkenness and ordered his suspension and trial, was made a part of the petition. Stephenson recently was elected Grand Dragon by the Indiana Klan.

Robert Kennard and Bernard Nollen, of Phillipsburg, attended the funeral of Charles Blythe yesterday.

Champaign, Ill., May 14. (INS.)—The Rev. Billy Sunday was sleeping when his special car attached to the Illinois Central Panama limited, passed through here early today. Dr. R. L. Sanders, his personal physician who is accompanying the noted evangelist from Memphis to Rochester, Minn., said Mr. Sunday had slept fairly well from 11:30 to 3:30 and from then on had slept soundly.

His condition was described as satisfactory and Dr. Sanders repeated there was no immediate danger. He said Mr. Sunday's temperature was normal.

Sunday will undergo treatment by the Mayo brothers at Rochester for the kidney ailment which caused his collapse at Memphis, where he was conducting a revival.

MAHAFFEY WOMAN AGED 80, BURNED TO DEATH IN HOME

House Caught Fire from Early Kindled Fire and Others Had a Narrow Escape from Death.

DAUGHTER BURNED

Mahaffey, May 13.—Mrs. Mary Freedline, aged 80, was burned to death and her daughter, Mrs. Blair Shultz, sustained an injury to her hip when the Shultz home was destroyed by fire early this morning.

Merritt Shultz, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Shultz, arose to leave for work at 4 o'clock and built a fire in the stove. The rest of the family arose later and when they came down stairs for breakfast found the lower portion of the home in flames. Mrs. Shultz immediately went back upstairs to assist her aged mother from the house while Mr. Shultz started to fight the flames. Dandale, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Shultz, followed his mother back upstairs. When they reached the second landing Mrs. Shultz discovered she could not get back downstairs and dropped the child uninjured from the window. She tried to save her mother, but could do nothing, and in order to save her own life jumped from the window and sustained the injury to her hip.

She was hurried to the Adrian hospital, where she is under the care of physicians.

County Commissioner Blake W. McCracken, whose home is in Mahaffey and who was at the fire yesterday morning, informs us that the entire Shultz family had a very narrow escape from being burned to death.

When the son arose in the morning and lit the kitchen fire at 4 o'clock he expected to go to Curwensville to work. After lighting the fire he took the coal bucket and went to get a bucket of coal. He was absent from the house possibly five or more minutes and when he opened the door into the kitchen upon his return he found the room almost a mass of flame. He rushed through the heat and smoke to the stairway with difficulty and gaining the second floor awakened his brother. The two young men then dashed into the room of Grandmother Freedline and after waking her ran into the room of their parents. There were also two younger children asleep in an adjoining room.

By this time the fire had reached such a stage that escape by the one stairway to the kitchen was impossible and the boys and their father jumped from the second floor window to the ground. Mrs. Shultz then seized the two children and dropped them in turn out of the window into the waiting arms of the father and they escaped injury.

She endeavored to do the same thing for her mother but the old lady became panic stricken and not only refused to jump from the window but resisted all the efforts of her daughter to shove her out of the window. Mrs. Shultz struggled with her mother until the old lady broke away and with the rapidly advancing flames scorching her flesh she threw herself from the window.

The husband and sons were unable to catch her and she alighted heavily on the ground, suffering a fractured pelvis and other serious injuries in the fall.

Mrs. Fredline was engulfed by a burst of flame as her daughter hurried from the window and her charred remains were found in the ashes of the burned home.

"POP" WILSON BIRTHDAY

"Pop" Wilson, the genial H. & C Telephone Company Superintendent is celebrating his birthday today. Just what number it is "Pop" refuses to inform us. He is bearing up well under the added strain of another milestone reached and may be induced to "say something" later on in the evening. As Dr. Munyon once remarked "there is hope."

Maurice Wrigley, who has been a patient in the Clearfield hospital, was removed to his home today.

TOY WHISTLE IN THROAT IS FATAL TO DUBOIS CHILD

A tragedy occurred on Hill street, DuBois, on Sunday evening, when Joseph Chirn, a four-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chirn, died as the result of having a tin whistle caught in its throat.

The whistle was a toy that had been given to a brother two years older by some of his playmates. He innocently carried it into the house and gave it to the infant, which innocently and promptly placed it in its mouth and swallowed it. The whistle caught in its throat and was not discovered for some moments, when the child was noticed to be in a strangling condition. Home efforts were made to clear the child's throat and later a physician was summoned and succeeded in removing the obstacle two hours after it had been swallowed. The child had bled profusely and, combined with the lengthy blocking of the air chambers, was so weak when the obstacle was removed that it passed away.

Efficient Secretary Of Medical Society Is Given A Fine Watch

The Clearfield County Medical Society met at the Hotel Phillips, Phillipsburg, Friday May 9, as the guests of the physicians of Phillipsburg and vicinity.

After an excellent dinner all repaired to the seventh floor, where President Jones called the scientific meeting to order and introduced Dr. Edmund B. Pifer, chief of obstetric clinics, University of Pennsylvania, who gave a most instructive and up to the minute talk on "Septicemia. Treatment by Intravenous Medication."

Dr. A. C. Morgan, professor of therapeutics at Temple University, Philadelphia, spoke on "Antisepsis," most instructively on "Applied Therapeutics."

These were two of the most wonderful lectures to which the society has had the privilege of listening for many months and the 56 physicians present were well repaid for the time spent, in attending the meeting. A vote of thanks was tendered the distinguished speakers for their addresses and to the men of Phillipsburg and vicinity for their having made such a splendid program possible.

Dr. Andrews of Phillipsburg and Dr. Blair of Curwensville, who had been appointed respectively as committees of "Safety" and "Resolutions," then reported and in humorous and timely speeches presented a watch of exquisite beauty to Dr. J. M. Quigley, who is now serving his eleventh year as secretary of the society, as a tribute from the members of the society in appreciation of the work he has done for the society.

Dr. Quigley received the gift with an appropriate speech, saying that the success of the society during the past eleven years was the result not alone of his work but of the co-operation and loyalty of every individual member which had been his pleasure to have unstintedly—and expressed the hope that for many years to come this spirit of co-operation and loyalty to the society and to each other might continue to prevail.

POLICE GIVE EAST END COUPLE TEN DAYS TO VAMOOSE

Mrs. Pearl Viard and her husband, who have been keeping the neighborhood of their home, on the upper end of Daisy street, in more or less of a turmoil for some time, have at last felt the urge to "move on" and gotten of Clearfield for Clearfield's good. It might be necessary to add in passing that this pair passed through similar circumstances several years ago, which time they took up their abode at Curwensville, only to be notified by the authorities there that room was preferable to their current abode. Upon leaving Curwensville the couple again inflicted themselves on this community.

Their actions have been such that the police have had them under surveillance for some time. A few days ago Bill Proud, of Curwensville, frequent caller there, was notified by Chief McMullen at the door of Viard home loaded with four pounds of moonshine, on the outside alone was sent up for possessing the same.

Last week a traveling salesman dropped into town and ran across Viard on the street. When he accounted of stock the next morning was shy a gold watch and chain in addition to his self-respect. If he had any. Before leaving town he happened up Chief McMullen, told him of his loss and when he told him who he had been with that Chief went to the Viard home and introduced Dr. Edmund B. Pifer, chief of obstetric clinics, University of Pennsylvania, who gave a most instructive and up to the minute talk on "Septicemia. Treatment by Intravenous Medication."

A sensational report was current this afternoon that President Coolidge planned to deliver a special message to Congress in person, declaring that the exclusion provision in amended so as not to offend Japan. This could not be confirmed. Many of those attending the White House conference, however.

AT 83D MILESTONE

A. W. Lee, Sr., Clearfield's oldest and one of her keenest and most successful business men and financiers, is celebrating his 83d birthday today at Clearfield. Kenneth, who he arrived last evening on a business trip to and among his many business interests in the south.

Mr. Lee was host on this auspicious occasion to a dinner party of friends and business associates, among whom were P. T. Davis and W. W. Wrigley, of Clearfield, who are accompanying him on his trip, and Cal. W. R. Townsend, of Townsend, Tennessee, and a son, mer Clearfield.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The Pennsylvania Geographic Board has granted the pleas of residents of two townships in the state who objected to modern spelling of names which to them had historical significance. The two townships where the old time spelling has been ordered restored are Gallagher township in Clinton county and Gulick in Clearfield. The board also held under advisement a number of other similar requests.

Clinton county residents told the board that what is now known as Gallagher township had been named for Judge Abraham Gallagher who was prominent in colonial affairs of that section but that with the passing of years the name had been changed to the more common one of Gallagher and that map makers had adopted the revised spelling.

Protest against the present spelling of Gulick township was based also on the correct spelling of a pioneer's name of the old county. The board was told that the town had been named in honor of Gulick, one of the first settlers of the section, and that the old spelling had been dropped from the records.

The board's revised decision on the petition in Pennsylvania Alpine county to change the name of Speechy township to Dauphin in Dauphin county was to hear the name. The board was unable to discover the original Speechy township and the name is dropped from the records.

The board also held under advisement a petition to change the name of the Potomac river to the name of the Potomac river for General Washington's birthplace.

mountains, and other topographical features be placed in parenthesis after the modern names. The board said that confusion would result from the giving of two names for the same topographical feature.

The presidents of the Lycoming and Clinton historical societies were asked to aid the geographic board in arriving at a satisfactory name for the mountain situated on the border between the two counties which is now named Big Mountain on geographical maps. A petition presented to the board asked that the older name of Kalbfleish mountain be restored, saying that there were scores of "Big" mountains throughout the state.

The board found that the name of Kalbfleish mountain had only been used for the last 60 years and asked the historical societies to endeavor to find an older and more suitable name.

The application to restore the name of Quinn's Run to the stream in Clinton county now known as Queen's Run was held in abeyance. The proponents of the name of Quinn's Run stated that the stream had originally been named for Terence Quinn and had only been changed by the carelessness of mapmakers.

The complete vote for the 17 candidates for delegates-at-large to the Democratic national convention, cast at the state primary April 22, was determined Saturday with the computation of official returns from the 67 counties in Pennsylvania.

The four men who received the highest vote among the ten men candidates and the four high women of the seven women aspirants will be chosen, according to Austin E. McCullough, Democratic state chairman.

The high men and their total vote were: Jacob H. Mays, Berks, 72,217; Lewis C. Cassidy, Philadelphia, 68,811; John A. McSparran, Lancaster, 63,546; Charles B. Lenahan, Luzerne, 57,650.

The four high women and their vote follows: Mary E. Herbert, Lehigh, 66,168; Anna M. Roesch, Northampton, 59,239; Maidee B. Renshaw, Allegheny, 53,579; May R. Lenny, Delaware, 49,330.

The returns show three men received higher votes than the lowest of those cast for the four high women but under the state chairman's ruling will not be delegates-at-large. They were: John A. Farrell, Chester, 56,187; John J. "Buth" McDevitt, Luzerne, 54,325; Joseph Howley, Alle-

The vote for other candidates on the ticket follows: A. Wright Bigler, Clearfield, 47,026; George R. McLean, Luzerne, 45,172; Andrew E. Brodbeck, York, 40,667; Gertrude S. Ely, Montgomery, 33,105; Marie A. O'Connell, Philadelphia, 46,954; Edith E. Allen, Lycoming, 42,206.

Although Governor Pinchot was defeated for delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention at the primary by approximately 200,000 by Ralph Beaver Strassburger, it was the votes of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties which defeated him, returns already filed with the state show.

The Governor carried 51 of the 67 counties of the state, in practically the same sections where he showed his strength in the primary of two years ago. The 14 counties, outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny, that went against him, did not poll a sufficient majority to overcome his lead over Strassburger in the 51. Philadelphia and Allegheny county votes, however,

Owing to inclemency of the weather Saturday evening the Junior class of the High School on the green adjacent to the school street, did not prove a very successful event, although the plans were made about a week in advance.

They will be in a part of the town for a short time for the time being. Curwensville people extend the hand of welcome to both a very acceptable citizens.

A full and complete appraisal, accompanied by Al Frank, was here Saturday afternoon after some farm land had been sold. A government loan has been made. It has been stated by those who are on the inside of the matter that almost $150,000 has been loaned to the land. County farmers are very interested in the loan. Long deferred payment is the inducement. The interest is the inducement. The interest is the inducement. The interest is the inducement.

Mike Yanski, residing in one of the new tannery houses on South Fifth street, made a great mistake Sunday when he filled up on illicit rum and tried running his car through the streets. Constable Moore arrested him, took his car away and placed Yanski in the borough jail. Toward evening Moore let him out provided he go home, but instead he secured his car and taking another drunk in with him started for Grampian. On the straight line at Stronach he jammed into a Buick. In the Buick was Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stephens, an aged couple of Hawk Run and Mrs. T. W. Dawson, mother of the young man who was operating the car. None were hurt to any extent, but the Buick was crippled considerably. Yanski was rearrested and put in the lockup until Monday morning, and, after hearing the evidence, Squire Dale asked bail in the sum of $1000, which the defendant was unable to secure, hence was sent down the river to swell the crowd in the Mc Clellan jail boarding house.

Bloom township and Pike township farmers all along the road up Anderson Creek hill are up in arms. They claim that the highway is in a miserable condition and that it is impossible to get a load over it. The Supervisors claim that the road belongs to the county, it becoming the owner at the time the commissioners purchased the toll rights and bridges from Rube Moore some thirty-five years ago, therefore the road by right belongs to the county and it is the responsible party to work it and keep it in traveling condition, despite the fact that both Pike and Bloom townships have worked the road ever since the Moore interests were turned over to the then County Commissioners. The Supervisors absolutely refuse to spend any more money in keeping up the road until the question of ownership is finally settled by the court. The road, in dispute, is known as the Cream Hill and Anderson creek turnpike, stretching from Curwensville borough line to Jefferson line. An arrest and criminal prosecution by the people residing and who are compelled to use the road is threatened the supervisors of both townships if the road is not made in condition to travel over decently. If this takes place then it is up to the County Commissioners and the Supervisors to fight it out as to ownership.

Mrs. Benjamin Kime was called to her old home near Rockton Sunday evening by a summons announcing the serious illness of her mother.

Mr. Weimer, the butcher, at Jimmie's grocery, has given up the shop ghost and will travel the road selling meats. Jimmie is getting a meat cutter and will continue the trade in his place next week.

Washington, May 14 (INS.)—The Immigration bill with its provision for Japanese Exclusion effective July 1, will be passed by the House Thursday and by the Senate probably Friday as a result of Agreements reached today.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 13 (INS.)—The Federal Grand Jury meeting here has returned a true bill against Vincent M. Slatry on a charge of embezzling funds from National banks. Slatry was assistant cashier of the Warren National bank at Warren, Pa., and was accused of embezzling $8,000.

and with five cows less. The women's ward was clean and every one there seemed happy and contented; well taken care of.

We recommend that the fire equipment at County Home be tested out and tank recharged every six months. This was recommended December, 1922, and nothing has been done. If a fire started those old helpless people would be roasted alive. Also more help be provided at home to help matron.

The Jail we found in best condition from attic to cellar. The balcony rail and window screens that have been recommended in December, 1922, December 1923, February 1924, have not been attended to, and in the opinion of Grand Jury it is very urgent. We consider it criminal neglect to disregard this recommendation any longer. The lavatory in private part of jail should be replaced by modern one. The old one leaks and is torn from wall at one side.

We extend to Hon. A. R. Chase, our thanks for his clear and explicit instructions; to W. Elbridge Brown for his gentlemanly and efficient manner of presenting bills to Jury; to the Sheriff, Tip Staff and all County officials with whom we came in contact. We extend to District Attorney Arnold our sympathy in his illness and wish for him a speedy recovery.

TRINITY CHURCH NOTES

Mother's Day was very appropriately observed at Trinity on Sunday. The Sunday School at 9:30 was full of interest and the attendance record showed an attendance of 501. The music by the large orchestra under the efficient leadership of Prof. Martin was full of inspiration. Supt. Tobias appointed the following committee to arrange for Children's Day to be observed on the second Sunday of June. Committee: Isabelle Powell, Ruth Williamson, Josephine McMurry, Bertha Stage, Hannah Weisgarber, and Prof. Martin.

The 10:45 Church Service was given over to the observance of Mother's Day. Dr. Bell took as the basis of his address: "Behold Thy Mother." He paid a beautiful and forceful tribute of respect to our best friend, Mother. A little girl once asked her Mama, "Mama, do you love me?" "Yes, my dear why do you ask me?" "Just because it sounds good to hear you tell me" the little girl replied. Dr. Bell urged the hearers to likewise tell our mothers how much we love them and how much they mean to us as the grandest tribute we could pay them and thus make the hearts of Mothers joyous and glad. Mrs. Ethel Boyce Davis sang a beautiful solo and Mr. Kenneth Thorn most feelingly sang "My Mother's Beautiful Hands" while the large male chorus assisted him.

Prayer Service Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. While Dr. Bell is here there is a friendly contest on between Trinity and the Pine Street Church of Williamsport and the First Church of York to see which one will have the largest attendance at the Mid-Week

DESPONDENT FARMER OF JEFFERSON CO. COMMITS SUICIDE

Punxsutawney, Pa., May 13.—Harry Oswald, aged 55, one of the most highly respected farmers of Henderson township, took his life this morning at his home near Big Run by discharging the contents of a single-barreled shotgun into his chest just at the base of the heart, dying instantly. Ill health is given as the cause of the act.

Mr. Oswald arose at the usual hour this morning and ate breakfast. Mrs. Oswald left the house to do the milking; his daughter Ruth was still in bed and his son John had gone to Big Run. Mrs. Oswald and Ruth were startled by the report of a gun about 7:35 and rushed to the breakfast room where they found Mr. Oswald's body with a hole in his chest, lifeless. Dr. W. C. Newcome was called, but there was nothing to be done.

Mr. Oswald had been suffering with Bright's disease and palsy and had been in poor health for a number of years. He had become despondent and was heard to remark recently that his case was hopeless and that he might as well kill himself.

The deceased had resided in the vicinity of Big Run practically all his life with the exception of 10 years spent in Old Virginia, where he was married. He had been a successful farmer until ill health compelled him to retire. He was held in the highest esteem by the hundreds of friends he had made in the vicinity of Big Run.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. John Oswald, of Big Run, aged 89; his widow and the following sons and daughters: John and Ruth, at home; Lynn, of Smithport, Pa., and Mrs. Laura Landon of Kramer. The following brothers and sisters also survive: Mrs. Jacob Smith and Mrs. Adam E. Smith, of Route 2, Punxsutawney; Mrs. James Knarr, of DuBois; Mrs. Mary Bock, of Clearfield; Mrs. L. E. HAVE YOUR BABY WEIGHED... AND MEASURED TOMORROW

Last Thursday it rained in torrents, bringing disappointment to the hearts of mothers who had planned to attend the Baby Clinic at Red Cross Headquarters, as well as to the nurses and nursing Committee, who were there to receive them. Better luck this week in the hope of a sunshiny day for the babies.

Speaking of healthy babies, aren't there many times when an inexperienced mother, yes, and some of us who have had much experience, feel that there is some little symptom, an indefinable beginning of trouble, that we would like to question someone about? Bring that baby to the Red Cross Rooms tomorrow. Have it weighed and measured, to assure you that it is growing properly and normally. If there is anything wrong, the physician in attendance at the

ANOTHER HOME REFLOORED WITH CROMAR

One of the finest homes in Lancaster, Pa. Cromar and perfect floor. One name on top!

(Drawn from photograph)

The Beauty of CROMAR Floors is more than surface deep

The beautiful grain and color of oak, subdued in its natural state, is brought to the surface and revealed only after passing through many finishing operations.

Have you ever witnessed the installation of an ordinary hardwood floor? Perhaps you have been inconvenienced by the scraping, sand papering, filling, varnishing, waxing and polishing—a series of labors extending over days and days.

The CROMAR method is different from this. CROMAR Oak Flooring comes to your home completely finished like fine furniture, ready to use the minute it is laid. Patented machines perform the several operations more thoroughly, more uniformly and at less cost.

Two good carpenters can floor a room a day. And cost will be no more than that of a rug. Certain lumber dealers in your town can show you sample floors and quote prices. Write for their names; also booklets and sample.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Up to yesterday morning a little more than four and one-half inches of rain had fallen in Clearfield for the first 12 days of May. The general average for the entire month of May is 4.59 inches.

Automobile fatalities have risen to the first place as the cause of accidental death in the United States. Last year 15,700 were killed, an increase of almost 2,000 over 1922. The estimates are based upon statistics of 135 cities, with an aggregate population of more than 30,000,000. It may be possible that placing every kind of man in charge of a death-dealing instrument as powerful as a locomotive will bring its dangers, and it is the duty of the state to inquire into this and adjust its laws to the changed condition.

Of all the states in the Union, Pennsylvania has more stay-at-home voters than any other. A careful analysis by a Washington expert shows that while 26,000,000 voters went to the polls in the country at the last presidential election, 25,000,000 voters remained at home. Throughout the country half the people do not vote.

While Kentucky sent 76 of every 100 voters to the polls; Delaware 67 and Indiana 65, in Pennsylvania for every 100 persons who went to the polls, 133 remained away. Pennsylvania's interest in elections is lower than in some of the southern states where are frequently cited to show that large groups of persons are not permitted to vote.

The most popular interest in elections seems reflected in such states as Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas where the average is 59 stay-at-homes per 100 as compared with 82 per 100 in the New England group and the 133 in Pennsylvania which leads the list by being at the bottom.

Pennsylvanians to the number of 1,851,248 voted for President last time and Pennsylvanians to the number of 2,479,000 did not vote at all.

Every morning for some time teen days Boy Scouts from Boardman, and proceeding to the Lawrence Addition, located in Lawrence township across the river from the New York Central yards, take up the work of planting trees in and about that plot of lots. They are putting out the trees for Fred B. Kerr, who is having 50,000 young trees set out in the Kerr addition and the farm property adjoining.

A gain of 680,000 church members in 1923 in the United States is recorded in the statistics compiled by the Christian Herald.

The churches have 45,457,336 communicants, a gain of 2,733 and 237,404 houses of worship, a gain of 2,884.

The largest Christian denomination is the Roman Catholic, with 15,750,260 members, an increase of 138,616.

There are 8,622,836 Methodist communicants in sixteen bodies and a gain of 87,683.

The twenty-three bodies of Baptists gained 192,520, bringing the total to 3,237,021.

There are 2,465,841 Lutherans and an increase of 22,825; 2,462,557 Presbyterians, a gain of 61,290; 1,140,076 Episcopalians, an increase of 10,463 and 1,621,303 Disciples of Christ, a gain of 68,490.

There are also increases in Reformed United Brethren in Christ, Latter Day Saints, and Evangelical Churches.

The Friends report a decrease of nearly 2,000. The Menonites also report a decrease of 2,393.

The Salvation Army reports an increase of 6,267 members with a total membership of 58,558.

The Church of the Nazarene reports an increase of 2,779 with a total of 50,721.

Higher Education Is Recommended For New Methodist Ministers

Springfield, Mass., May 14. (INS.)

Bishop Edwin Hughes of the New England area today recommended to the Methodist General Conference the adoption of a comprehensive and modern curriculum for the course of study for the ministry. The report was submitted to the conference by Bishop Hughes as chairman of the special commission which has made a study of the problem for eight years.

The plan does not meet the approval of the ultra-conservative element in the conference, but it is intended to meet the present day needs for a broader education for those ministers who are obliged to depend upon methods of self education. In actual home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. practice the plan contemplates the adoption of Methodists in use in correspondence schools.

The commission finds that only 20 per cent of the Methodist clergy have both college and seminary training; 18 per cent have not completed high schools and one-third have an eighth grade education or less. The proposed changes in the conference course of study are designed to aid those ministers who are obliged to get their education while preaching.

$1,000 for a Slogan

WANTED a slogan for ICE CREAM—to typify its purity and food value

Can you think of a slogan, not more than six (6) words, easily said and remembered, to express the purity, goodness and food value of ICE CREAM; a phrase that conveys its year 'round appeal as a delicious delicacy as well as a nutritious, healthful food.

The National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers will give $1,000.00 in cash to the person who submits the best slogan.

Read the rules of the contest carefully and ACT IMMEDIATELY! The $1,000.00 prize may be yours in return for very little time or effort expended.

WHO IS GIVING THE PRIZE?

The National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers is composed of nearly 3,000 members whose plants are located in all parts of the United States and Canada, and whose purpose is to foster and maintain the highest standards of quality and purity in the making of ICE CREAM.

Today this important industry represents an investment of over $250,000,000 with an annual production of over 300,000,000 gallons. In your own community, there are makers who supply you with rich, pure, wholesome ice cream. Surely they merit your confidence and your patronage.

RULES OF CONTEST

Contest is open to every man, woman and child in the United States and Canada. Contestants may submit as many slogans as they wish, but each must be clearly written in ink (or typed) on separate sheets of paper. Each sheet must contain contestant's name and address.

No slogan can be longer than six (6) words. A letter, not longer than 25 words, must accompany each slogan submitted, explaining its use and application.

This explanation will be considered a part of the slogan by the judges in determining the winner.

Contest closes May 31, 1924. Slogans received postmarked later than May 31, 1924, will be declared void.

Prize will be awarded by competent judges; in case two or more contestants submit the winning slogan, the full amount of the prize will be given to each.

Another Clearfield Business House Finds Expansion Necessary

Robinson & Co. have let the contract for the erection of an addition or new front to their building on Market street to Contractor T. A. Divens, of Philipsburg and work on same will be begun within the coming two weeks.

Several years ago the rear of the building, which is of brick, three stories in height, was completed, but the coming of war times with its consequent scarcity of workmen and materials made completion of the building impossible until the present contract was entered into.

This contract provides for an addition on front 25x80 feet, three stories and when completed will give Robinson & Co., a modern, up-to-date 3-story brick building 25x172 feet in size, the additional room being made necessary by their advancing business.

During the time the new building is being erected Robinson & Co. will occupy the room of the Clearfield Hardware Company, on Second street located between the County National Bank and Bloom's Drug store.

COURT NOTES

The first case disposed of in Judge Chase's court yesterday was that of Haworth & Son vs. John W. Beach. The plaintiff was given a verdict for the full amount of his claim, $546, by default, and because of the non-appearance of the defendant.

Makes the "Impossible" — Performance That Thrills

The Phaeton

A 7-bearing crankshaft, heavy enough for a two-ton car, combines with scientifically designed and balanced reciprocating parts to produce vibrationless power at all speeds. As a result of the scientific Chrome-Molybdenum tubular front axle and Chrysler pivotal steering with ball thrust bearings on the king pins, it steers as easily at 60 as at 30. Complete confidence at all speeds results from Chrysler-Lockheed hydraulic four-wheel brakes.

The Roadster, 1525 The Sedan, 1625
The Brougham, 1795 The Imperial, 1895
All prices f. o. b. Detroit, tax extra.

We do not blame any man for saying that Chrysler Six performance, plus Chrysler Six low cost of investment and upkeep, is impossible.

All that we ask, is that he ride in a Chrysler Six and learn how it has turned the impossible into performance that will thrill him again and again.

Here is a touring car, weighing only 2705 pounds, at $1335 list price, giving 20 miles to the gallon—that rides the road and holds the road as well or better than a two-ton car; that gives him a high gear range of from 2 to 70 miles an hour, that has no "period" of vibration, and that is as beautiful and distinguished a car as one can desire.

MAIN CIRCUS COMING

Will Bring An One Of Its Specially Engaged Attractions A Famous Australian Family Making Their First American Tour

Producing Circus Acts Entirely New To This Country

A family of eleven, known as the Colleano Circus Stars in their native country of Australia, where the family name has been prominently identified with the circus for many years, recently arrived in New York direct from the London, England, Coliseum, where they have been a feature of the performance during the past year. The entire family was trained in the Colleano circus, an Australian institution of long standing. Each is an expert performer in from two to a dozen acts that constitute an Australian circus program. This famous family of artists came to America under contract with Manager Downie to appear as a feature in the program of the Walter L. Main Circus for the season of 1924. They will present a series of their most difficult sensational acts, using special equipment and costumes for each act, some as were used in the London Coliseum engagement.

The Walter L. Main Circus will give its grand free street parade and two performances in Clearfield Wednesday May 15, and the Colleano Family will appear at each performance.

The circus will arrive from Phillipsburg early Wednesday morning, will be unloaded on arrival, and the city of tents will be up and all animals, horses, wagons and equipment in their respective tents early in the day.

Three hundred and fifty people are fed in the Walter L. Main circus cook tent at each meal. There are many interesting sights for the curiosity seeker on the circus grounds and the public is invited to feast their eyes while the show is being located on the lot and preparations made for parade.

The big free street parade on day of show and the popular prices of admission, viz., 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children under 12, are two important features the public is requested to remember.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Humphrey, of DuBois, attended the K. of C. luncheon at the Dimeling yesterday.

Back Lane and Achy?

The Advice of This Clearfield Resident Should Help You to Get Well.

Do you suffer nagging backache? Feel dizzy, nervous and depressed? Are the kidney secretions irregular, breaking your rest? Likely your kidneys are at fault. Weak kidneys give warning. You have backache; rheumatic twinges. You feel weak, tired, all worn-out. Need the warning. Don't delay. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Here is a Clearfield case. Jas. R. Schnars, carpenter, R. F. D. No. 5, says: "I caught cold in my kidneys and a heavy ache in my back caused lots of trouble. When I stooped, a sharp kink caught me and it was hard to straighten. Sometimes my back was lame and stiff in the morning. My kidneys acted too frequently and I had to get up nights. Doan's Pills from Woodward & McPherson's Drug Store cured the backache and I haven't been troubled since."

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes Venus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Drink Milk When You're Hungry

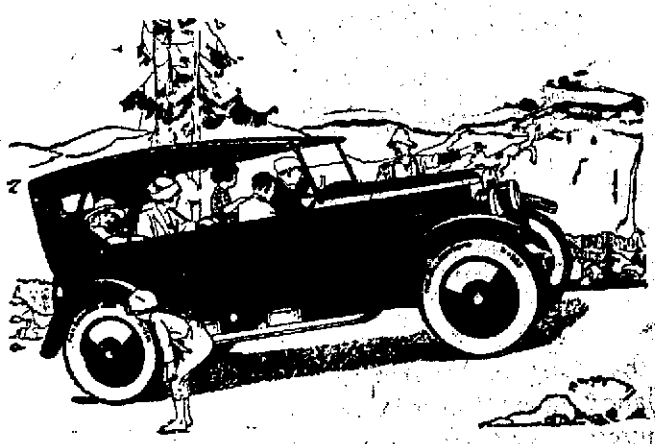

Milk is essentially a food and will satisfy hunger just as much as the heaviest meal one might eat. In milk, especially our rich, pure milk, there is every food need required to sustain your body.

There are animal fats which supply the energy which your body requires to withstand the strain of the daily grind; there is sugar which furnishes the necessary heat to aid your body to maintain its proper balance between high and low speed; there are minerals, each with a special work to do in the building up of brain and bone; then there are those elusive "vitamines" which your physician tells you so much about and which contribute their share to bringing your bodily health to the height of perfection.

Roe McQuown, of Clearfield, has purchased the Joe Clark property near town, paying $1,100 for the same.

The ladies auxiliary of the American Legion by their drive succeeded in rounding up the sum of $400, to be added to the monument fund. The amount already in hand is not sufficient to pay off the debt which will be incurred, but the ladies are confident that the patriotic people of Curwensville are not going to see the movement stick for lack of the proper funds.

Dan Irvin went to Washington, D. C., Monday on a three-day business jaunt.

Paul Gardlock came in from Warren, O., Sunday on a short visit. Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gardlock accompanied him back to Ohio, where they expect to spend several weeks with friends.

Hugh McKenrick and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cathcart, all of Clearfield, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McKenrick, South Side.

Adams, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, recited the ritual of the church in such portions as are suitable to the confirmation of vows which they had made to each other 50 years before. The ceremony was witnessed by the following persons: Mrs. J. V. Adams, Miss Mary Margaret Adams, Mrs. John Fox, Miss Helen Fox, Miss Jean Nolder, Mr. and Mrs. William Young, Miss Aratum Young, Mrs. John Gorrill and daughters Jane and Gladys, all of Curwensville; Mrs. Blanche Young Stitt and Miss Virginia Milliner, of Philipsburg. Mrs. William Young of this place and William Heller, of Los Angeles, Cal., are living children of the union. The son, William, was not able to come east at this time and was not present. His substantial gifts of gold to his parents represented in a practical way his love for the "old folks at home." Mr. and Mrs. Heller were united in marriage at New Market, Virginia, by Rev. Soerates Henkel of the Lutheran church, May 12th, 1874. They moved to Curwensville September 26th, 1881, where Mr. Heller has been in the employ of the tanneries ever since. The men of his department at the Penna. H. & L. beam shop of which he is the foreman, sent him substantial remembrances during the day and called at his home in the evening. Mrs. Heller received many valuable and useful presents from members of her family and other relatives. Before dinner was served a local photographer made pictures of the couple and party, among which four generations were represented. The community extends congratulations and wish for Mr. and Mrs. Heller every possible joy in the declining years of their long life.

Yesterday morning George Whitaker inveigled us into a ride up the state road to a point near the Stronach bridge, where Mike Cassidy has broken ground for buildings at his new park. He has purchased nine acres of ground lying on both sides of the state highway and will turn the wilderness into a park. A dancing pavilion, a swimming pool, a restaurant and a gas station are a few of the things which will be found there. The ground is an ideal spot for a park, having thereon two fine mineral springs besides Kratzer run and several other streams coming from the mountain. It will be known as "Wildwood Park" and the opening has been fixed for the middle of June. It is going to take a pile of work to get it fixed up and in running order but Mike is equal to the task.

Rev. Bertram Conley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will preach the memorial sermon in that edifice. Rev. Dr. Adams will deliver the address on Memorial Day.

William Edmiston became the daddy of a fine boy at his home at Gramplan Monday evening, and now Grandpa Jimmie is stepping wide and high.

Beauty for Girls

Youth for women—Let me show you how
BY EDNA WALLACE HOPPER

For 40 years I have been a famous beauty. Now, at a grandmother's age, I am the most talked-about woman in America as an example of perennial youth.

The reason is this: My mother and I, many years ago, searched the world to find the best beauty helps in existence. They multiplied my beauty, and I became the rage. They have kept my beauty to a grand old age.

I am convinced that these helps can bring like results to millions. And I have decided to enable all to get them.

Easy, simple ways. I do about what you do. But the difference is that I employ the best of science.

You use clay, perhaps. Any woman who omits it does herself injustice. But you use crude and muddy clays which I quit years ago. I use a modern clay, white, refined and dainty. A clay perfected by 20 years of scientific study.

Mine I call my White Youth Clay. It is fully ten times as efficient as ordinary clays. The new complexion that it brings amazes and delights. Many women in 30 minutes seem to drop ten years.

Clay brings rosy, clear complexions. It takes out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles. The women who employ it stand out in every crowd.

But my White Youth Clay is a super-clay—the last word in facial clays. It brings multiplied results. The cost is 50 cents and $1.

The supreme creams. You use creams, no doubt. I spent a fortune to secure the best cold cream and vanishing cream in existence.

My Youth Cream contains products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster and feed the skin texture.

I apply it after my clay. Also as a night cream. Also daytimes as a powder base. It is ever-present, to whiten, soften and preserve my skin. I have never known another cream which brought any like results. It costs 60c.

I clean my skin with my Facial Youth. That is a liquid cleanser I found long ago in France. Now leading beauty experts everywhere employ it.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. But it enters the pores and cleans the skin to the depth. Nothing else in all the world can clean the skin as this does.

My Facial Youth sells for 75 cents. The identical formula, offered by great beauty experts, is everywhere sold at $3.

For beautiful hair. My hair is my great glory. It is thick and lustrous and grows finer every year. Never have I known a falling hair, dandruff or gray hair.

This is due to my Hair Youth, which France perfected for me. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It keeps the scalp clean and the hair roots stimulated. I have brought beautiful hair to countless friends by giving them this method. It costs 50 cents and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters supply the beauty helps I use. Go try them. Each will bring you rich rewards. I am very glad to enable you to get them. Edna Wallace Hopper, 536 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.
